Human Rights violation today has an enormous number in different countries maybe because they lack of knowledge in everyone right on this world.
As far political is concern everyone has the freedom to be a leader; freedom to choose who will be are leaders; the freedom to vote; the right to participate in politics; freedom to express his/her opinion maybe most of the people today doesn't observe this but the in fuck in our life's is very big.

For example is the barangay election, vote buying is everywhere in our barangay, maybe many poor people doesn't think that the candidate were using the money of that certain barangay, Political killings is arises in different places here in the Philippines, that's one of the reason why plenty of people that have the good intention but they the fear to enter in any election in our country so maybe our government should solve that issue.
