

Change for the Better

The world is in chaos, Individual lenders working independently for their selfish needs. What we need now isn't relief, what we need now isn't people who don't know what they are doing to "assist" other nations who are worse off. What we need now is a change. A change to elect a world leader; A person who is impartial and immune to corruption to lead, to educate, and to help on a GLOBAL level, not a t a "local" country level. As a world citizen, not as an American citizen, we need to do this.
