

My wish for the world would be for each country to meet with unify and peace. Recycling, respect each others' religion and faith. This would truly make our world a beautiful place.