

Rainforests, Environment, and McDonald's

Though many people love McDonald's as their favorite fast food restaurant, McDonald's is also the killer of the most rainforests each year. In addition, McDonald's wastes tons of energy and water to power all their restaurants 24/7, making food, drink, and shelter for all the cans and chicken they use for food. It's like McDonald's is taking over everything. And it should be stopped, or at least cut back.
