I feel lost after I saw the short film about the disaster suffered all around the world especially to the children.

I am with you...for answering the call...the change will begin today not tomorrow...We must know how to save energy...educate not only for myself but for all of us...recycle our waste disposal. Save our planet not for us but for our children.

Have the right education about what is the reality if ever we did not discipline our self.