

After watching the film I fell pity for those who affected by some kind of disasters and the songs really touches my heart.

To improve our environment and protect our earth from getting worse, we should avoid cutting trees to prevent soil erosion and flood.

Help one another because we are just in one world. Love one another because we do not know what happen in the future.