

Respect and Love

Wilson. H

Respect goes both ways if you want respect from others, you have to respect them first. Respect is earned as well as given. In this life, how you treat others is how others will treat you. So live to respect and love, and you will live a blissful and joyful life.