

I Wish for a Better World

Every time I see a bad news which causes trouble to the earth, I feel so sad about it. I do hope that human will take action right away on protecting our earth.

First of all, I am very worried about the pollution worldwide and particularly now I see the oil polluted in the Gulf of Mexico by BP with all the wildlife dying.

Secondly, I am further VERY worried about child-labor in India and China and very worried about child prostitution in various countries, not to mention the killing of rare animals (like tigers) to make medicines and aphrodisiacs and the repression of women (not allowed to study etc) in countries like Iraq, Pakistan and Afghanistan.

Moreover, lots of things go wrong in this world and it is frustrating to see all the bad news and the violence every day because people do not worship the same God, Allah or Buddha.

At last, I wish human will think more and do more for this world. If only we can make a change and try not to be so selfish, a better world will come to us. Let's pray for the world and for ourselves.
