

The person I want to thank is my mother. If I don't have her, it would not have me today, especially to be a cabin crew. She always supports and encourage me until I can reach my dream career. At the time, this allows me have a great chance to serve people on the earth in many countries and learn to help other people. So my mother makes me have good and challenging opportunities to thank the earth by making all people around the world happier, not only when they travel on the earth, but also in the sky with good care.
