

ACHIEVING WORLD PEACE

YEE, CHRISTINE JOY G.
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

World peace is an ideal of freedom, peace, and happiness within all the nations and all people all over the world. It refers to a permanent end to global wars through non violent means.

When we rise early in the morning and watch television or read newspapers we are confronted with sad news such as violence, crime, wars, disasters, tortures and many more. We can say that there must be something wrong with our progress and development. Wars within all nations worldwide can be solved by making sense of peace. As what we say, peace is the key to happiness.

All people and nations can make peace. World peace is conducted to end the global crisis, especially wars. We can prevail peace on earth by making friends with all people around the world. We don't need wars; we need more understanding and peace here in earth. World peace is giving us the freedom to make friends, and to work with out the wars between the nations.

If you are going to research world peace in a dictionary, it would say something about tranquility, and non violence. You might find out the word truce if you'll going to search for its synonym. I think World Peace is far more than just a truce. Think of when you drop a stone in a pond. It generates small ripple at first, but after a while, that little ripple has spread throughout the entire pond. Now, think of world peace. If a certain person starts to apologize to someone else, and they do the same, imagine what we can achieve! While the world is in constant pressure of terrorism, achieving peace would certainly help to refresh better thoughts among people.

There are certain behaviors one that should absorb in order to have a peaceful world and surroundings. One of it is being an understanding individual. Once people start understanding each other, they would begin developing high viewpoints about the others. Respect and non-interference come automatically through understanding. Respect is also a factor. Respecting other people includes respecting their nature and culture too.

The popular belief says if you respect others, others will respect you back. Being patient and understanding every situation in life are the main aspects you should consider to develop maturity in your behavior. This maturity will definitely bring self-respect and will make you value other individuals too. In this fast developing world, a person does not have his own peace of mind; how is he supposed to contribute to the world peace? It is necessary to first have peace inside yourself and your home. This will naturally allow you to be serene and peaceful in the outside world too. Peace is something everyone wants, but no one exactly knows how to achieve it. Someone has appropriately said "Peace is the mother of progress". A country's condition can never improve if there are internal conflicts among its populace. Understanding and respect are extremely necessary to bring peace into the society.

Another important way of bringing harmony in the world is through educating people. Educated people make fewer conflicts and easily understand situations. Such people stay away from others' issues and concentrate on their daily activities. An empty mind is a room for bad and negative thoughts. Such negative thoughts direct people to the wrong paths. More and more arguments and clashes occur amid less or uneducated people because they do not have the sense to differentiate between right and wrong. Thus, educated people may also help achieve world peace.

May peace prevail on earth!