

“How to save our mother earth?”

Biao, Saphia C.

School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City

Given by the scientist to save our earth, it becomes a big cry from every corner of the world. How to save our mother earth from global warming every nation, every forums, everywhere and in everything they discuss about global warming and how to save our earth from this biggest threat. Scientist had laid down the root cause for this situation as the increase in the amount atmosphere by our industries and automobile. If this is going to be continue we may lose our land to ocean and the indifferent climate condition may also lead to know unknown diseases which may challenges medical work. Now if self we have started to feel the impact of this global warming it is not an issue with the scientific alone every individual can join hands in this global mission on “ how to save our mother earth from global warming and I have observe, there are still abusing the forest they still cutting trees. If this would still continue, many people will be suffering because of flood when there is a heavy rain because there are no trees to support or absorb the water.

So far me we should be given importance to our mother nature, we can help saving our mother earth in a way not cutting trees and other can cause harm to our beloved mother earth.