

“How to save our mother earth”

Tony, Al-nahar D.
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City

Given by scientist to save our earth it become a big cry from every corner of the world how to save our mother earth from global warming every nation, every forms, everywhere and in everything the discuss about this global warming and how to save our mother from this biggest threat.

Scientist had laid down the root cause for this situation as the increase in the amount for carbon dioxide let out on the atmosphere by our industries and automobile. If this is going to be continue. We may lose our land to ocean and their different climate condition may also lead to know an known discuss which may challenges medical work. Now itself we have started to fell the impact of this. Global warming it is not an issue with the scientists alone every individual can join hands in this global mission on how to save our mother earth from global warming and I have listed something below. The best way to save the earth is to change the way you live, and encourage other to do as well.