

EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS

Genevive Tindan Pajulas
BS Criminology
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

Many innocent Filipinos were killed without due process of law. Questions and inquiries in their families are still not answered until now. They don't know what were the reasons why their loved ones were killed. Dead bodies are found after the pain and sufferings inflicted to the victims. Hands, eyes, mouth and feet are tied with masking tape or rope and the dead bodies were put in the sack and thrown in a secluded and isolated place. I can say they were killed brutally without conscience and pity.

Sometimes innocent people were killed because they know something or have information of an event; others were killed because of the crime or damages they commit; and others were killed because they are victims of circumstances. Just like what happened in Maguindanao Massacre, where Ampatuan family is the prime suspect of the multiple murders. There are already witnesses that testified of the massacre, but still until now the case is still on the process.

We are not entitled to take anyone's life. It is their right to live. Only god has the right to do it.