

“How to save the Environment”

Unnu Rayhan A. Jailani
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City

Our environment is very important to us because this is the place where we live, where we get our foods, sources and many more, but because of our improper use of the sources in our environment, our environment now are being destroyed and getting worse. And we are also the one who can make it clean again, like before.

We can save our environment by starting in our own houses and then to barangay, by collecting garbage's, and also we can join different groups/team that are aimed to clean and save the environment, and also we must avoid disposing garbage in anywhere to ensure the cleanliness of our environment.