

HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES

Abdurahman, Munding M.
BS Criminology
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

At present, we all know that there are a lot of people who are abusing the rights of others. Like for instance our right to education. Not all people have the privilege to have this right because their parents cannot afford them to have them send to school. The government should think ways to solve this problem, they are the ones responsible to provide the underprivileged.

Another is the right to due process of law. But there are some instances they are not following the due process of law. They are putting law in their hands especially people who are in position and those uniformed people like the police. They will take advantage particularly if you are weak, they will kick you around. We must not forget, in our Constitution says that, "Civilian authority is supreme at all times over the military". Their work is to serve us, to guide and protect us, not to become our boss.

Another right is that all human beings must be treated equally or alike regardless of sexuality, religion, and status in life. Meaning to say in the eyes of our law rich or poor are alike. But the fact behind this right does not exist, there is some favoritism which is arising, when you are rich the law is in favor of you, but when you are underprivileged it will be very hard for you to find justice. You are being discriminated. That's why for me when you are poor in our country you feel very difficult to pass the circumstances. Example the white collar crime this is done by those individuals who are in position they are breaking the right of their subordinates, they will do everything, not thinking that the person who are they kicking is also human like them.

These are just some of the common rights which are not being granted to others, that will serve as an example for us to open our mind, that at present in our country there is a big problem which is for how many generations is still existing. We have all equal rights to enjoy and who ever intent to violate these rights then they will be punished by the law. Don't let your rights be abused by other people.