

HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES

Pitogo, Bonillo G.
BS Criminology
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

All of us have rights what we want to do in our lives. But here in our country human rights abuses are everywhere. If a person committed a crime, the arresting officers can't arrest the person forcefully without proper papers to show. If they will forcefully arrest the person, the arrested person can file case against the arresting officers. We should know our rights. There are people being abused easily simply because they do not know their rights. Like the Maguindanao massacre, it is an example of human rights abuses.