

HUMAN RIGHTS

Aliacbar, Raden
BS Criminology
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

Human rights as what have been defined these are rights and freedoms that are entitled to all individual. These served as rules and regulations in the country. It is also refers to the law of the people. And the government should be the one to implement this for the people they serve. They should protect the benefit of the people. That's what human rights of.