“How to save the Environment”

Upon the creation of the world mother earth is the most beautiful in the whole universe. Their unique and beautiful living creature is the most wonderful thing ever created in their world. Due to human activities and needs, our environment becomes the very victim. Pollutions arise and nature was gradually destroyed. How can we save our environment?

Our environment was been destroyed by human. Then its human's responsibility to save it. Upon the promotion of saving the environment, human force is necessary to do and facilitate activities such as tree planting, proper waste disposal, cleaning dirty rivers, avoiding illegal logging, and other different campaigns to promote our goals. Discipline in every citizen of different nations in the world would make our dreams happen that is to preserve our nature and save our dying environment. Remember, what has done has their consequences. And this consequence has their corresponding responsibilities. Our biggest responsibility in return of our mother earth generosity of its natural resources is to save it, preserve it, and live it-beautifully and not destroy it. Every change starts within. So let's start to clean. To save the earth environment.
