

Human Rights
Hajijan, Sitti Rahiema A.
Department of Civil Engineering
Universidad de Zamboanga

Human rights in the Philippines are very important but sad to say when you are poor you have no money sometimes they just taken you for granted, when you want to do something like for example the mayor of the province is very corrupt then your just keep your mouth shut.

In the school every student has the right to express their emotion, they have the right to wear dress any kind of dress especially in Saturday, they have a right to ask a question inside the classroom to their respective instructor and students have the right also to inform that when their respective instructor is late in night manner, student have the right also to know about their grades, incase their failed they have to study very well for them to passed, student must be wear uniform inside the school campus and must aware of the regulation inside the school campus, student have the right also to suggest regarding the school facilities like the department of SAM they have an suggestion or, they have the right to suggest, especially nursing their hope in every student must be fare in treated, and must be equal as a human being.