In our individual life has the freedom to choose right and wrong and how we will use our human rights. Human rights is giving us to dis-agree to react and to speak because of our rights. It gave us on how we are discipline our self and to protect example if I have seen an violated act of cause I do my responsibility and right as a person, I have right to report the violators on the police on to the higher position. Another example if I have been violated on abuse of my parents I have the right to reporting DSWD so that they will stop violating me.
