Being a democratic country, people living in the Philippines has their rights and freedom. Sometimes these rights and freedom we have are being abused by people in the authority, who has power over ordinary person. But these rights and freedom we have has limitations.

Freedom to speak is one of the rights. But there is limitation to this. You can't just blame and say things against a person if you don't have enough evidences. They can file case against you.

Freedom to vote. Everyone of us, of legal age, has the freedom to choose leaders, that will govern us. Who we think that can bring development in our country.
