First of all, I would like to write my own opinion in this kind of situation. Because as a criminology student, I or we know what are the Human Rights. Human Rights also are a law in which every individual or person had it. Nowadays, many Filipinos abuses in our country and even in other countries especially in a Middle East Asia. I noticed that abusing a person is a worst thing that it may have. During 7' o'clock in the evening I watched TV Patrol at night. I noticed that every reporting, there are some abuses person committed especially those children and the women were tortured by their husband or their relatives only and the like. My example is like a lady whose bringing her baby inside her womb. Before the past days, the woman aborts her baby, it's because maybe she didn't want to destruct her body and she has a plan in her life. Then, the she aborted the baby and place the fetus on the plastic bag. She put it on and throws it in front of the church. When the mass is going on and it is Sunday in the morning. Many people noticed that there is a bad/ unpleasant odor beside the plant, they took it and open it. They're shock when they saw it, a fetus that is thrown by the own mother. There is a witness said that the mother of the fetus doesn't have conscience and bothered anymore.

I also experienced that in our home my father was drunk then my mother ask him to slowly drive the motorcycle. After that when they arrived in our house, we noticed that my mother was tortured by my father. My father didn't lose his temper and I don't know why my father got angry to my mother. His conscience doesn't bother. That was my experienced to share with.
