

NEGLIGENCE OF PARENTS TO FINANCIALLY SUPPORT THE CHILDREN IS A FORM OF ABUSE

Kenneth S. Omadlad
School of Criminal Justice
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

It is not right to neglect the parents of the financial needs of their son/daughter because the children have the right to be supported with their daily need and school needs so that they will not abuse the rights. The parents should support their children and provide them what they want. It is also their duties to support by taking good care of their children and let them show the good conduct and show them how to respect to those people older than them. Teach them also how things to be conducted and it is also their right to know what is wrong from right and what is the purpose of the children in living in this big world. It is their right to give them love of a parent. When they have family also, it is very important to those children to know what is right here to be performed or to be conducted. Showing love fair to his/her son or daughter so that his family will obtain a better and happy family. The son also has the right to tell their parents to make them feel comfortable living together with their family. To give the right to those children to enter the stages of entering into a school and support them until they finish their task to support their children and their children task. So that if they already have their own son/daughter finish their studies will also be the one to help and support their needs. Because education is the only thing that money can't buy and it is what we need to survive and can bring anywhere we go. It is the greatest gift a parent can give to their son/daughter. The parents should not neglect to support the children's financial needs by sending them to school so that they will not become abandoned in the street. They have no right to take that away from their children by not giving support because that is the only thing they can give to their son every day. Someday soon, it will cause to have a problem to the family. It can bring them trouble because they did not give this right to their children. It can also be the main problem of the family if they will get involved in t anomalies or crime, gang rape, etc. It is very important to those parents to support their children Teach them the right from wrong. Send them to school so that they can learn many things. Show them how to respect to other people. Support them until they finish their studied so that their children will earn better future and lead a better tomorrow. That is the task of those parents to support their son/daughter for their needs every day.