If we are all united, there will be peace. Peace is what everybody wants to achieve. But people are fighting because of differences in life. It's not new to us of what's happening, we are all aware of what's going on around us. Every individual wishes to have a better life and peaceful surroundings.

People have their rights. Guiding us, about judicial processes so that we will be able to defend ourselves from people who have bad intentions towards us. Especially us, women, we are always the victims of abuses. We just have to know our rights. So we can know how to defend ourselves. Speak for yourself, don't just sit and remain silent and pretend that nothing happened.
