

PEACE AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Monterona, Walter P.
BS Criminology
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

The peace is freedom from war, strife or commotion; agreement to obtain from further hostilities; tranquility; calm; concord. The peace is the basic information about freedom in our country and freedom of the people wherever they are.

Human rights are rights given to a person as a free will. But these rights sometimes are abused by people who have power, authority over a person. Overseas Filipino workers do experience this kind of abuse. They are being maltreated by their foreign boss. In our country, there are still cases of police brutality, policemen abuses their authority. Also people involve in extra judicial killings. People from our government, usually with higher position would cover such crime. There are also child abuse cases in our country. Parents sometimes can be accused with such crime when they physically hurt their children. There are also rape cases that involved minors.