

“The Human Rights”

By: Corvera, Albert Ian E.
School of Criminology Justice
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

Human rights are those rights which we deserve as human beings and are necessary to live as a human being and human rights are the supreme, inherent and inalienable rights to life, to dignity and rights to self-development. We have also the right to be born free and equal in dignity and rights they are endowed with reason and conscience and should act toward one another in a spirit of brotherhood. Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person.

No one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment. No one shall be subjected to arbitrary arrest, detention or exile. Everyone also has the right to a nationality, no one shall be deprived of his nationality without the right to change his nationality.

Everyone has the right to own property as well as in association with others, no one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his property.