

PEACE AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Jun T. Benedicto

Computer Engineering Department

Universidad de Zamboanga-Ipil

Zamboanga Sibugay Province, Philippines

As of now, some citizens living in a certain society have many struggles in various circumstances encountered in daily life where it remains actionable. In each second, changes take place and nothing is assured of permanency. Sometimes things turn out well, sometimes it doesn't, worst, it sometimes resulted to death.

For us students, it is really difficult to understand what is the real meaning of PEACE? As observed, no one can obtain peace without having peace in our self. We in fact have different ideas, beliefs and even attitude towards peace matters. And because our nation is made up of society of different cultures, peace is quite hard to attain.

We Filipino may also be relate to the circumstances occurred in other nation where citizens sometimes disagree with the policies imposed by the government and tend to go against the authorities. That's why rebel is common across the globe. Many lives are wasted in rebellion, rallies or other forms of uprising and fighting is quite hard to stop.

For me, no peace can be attained if someone rises against the law of the government and above all the law of God.