

PEACE AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Keymar B. Villarin

Computer Engineering Department

Universidad de Zamboanga-Ipil

Zamboanga Sibugay Province, Philippines

In a place where darkness prevails, we seek for light. We look for answers and wish for solutions. We might get lost, get isolated and get stuck somewhere.

We often heard of killings, crimes and abuse of human rights. Where did this all started? Misunderstanding, conflicts and pride, it's the root of all non-peaceful events.

The world now is in an endless war. The word "peace" is now just a noun. A word that spells P-E-A-C-E yet no one understands it. What we know and understand is "war". We've seen it, we experience it and somehow we are doing it. We simply view "Peace" as the absence of war but the word war weights much than the word peace that is slowly forgotten. There still hope for humanity. It wouldn't be war all the time if there is peace.

Days most give way to the night and nights also give way to the day. The only chance for us is to keep the day longer and the night shorter for us to do more because other people can't help us. It's not up to others to save us only we can do it. So, lets it ourself.