In our generation, each of us has a peace and human rights even before birth. A peace that can make us united is the peace which commonly speaks throughout the world and a human right which each of us wanted to have so much.

As a human, peace and human rights is important to us. Without these things our world will not be peaceful, maybe were always having a war. Everyone deserves a peace and as a matter of fact we can't create peace if we will not begin it to ourselves. If our mind and soul are not having a peace therefore even if were always saying that we love to have peace, we can't make it.

We as human must have really a peace and human rights that can help us united as one as our lives going on. For God gave us live for us to realize that we are important; he gave us everything because he loves us so much. If we want to thank God for all the blessings he showered upon us. Therefore, we must be all united and live the world with peace and rights. Having a peace and human rights in life can bring us to be more successful in life, a life that can make us better and full of happiness.
