

PEACE AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Ryle T. Espino

Computer Engineering Department

Universidad de Zamboanga-Ipil

Zamboanga Sibugay Province, Philippines

Peace and human rights are very known today because of the problem that only this word can solve problem that come out from human right that have been abuse and produce unmerciful society that is full of problem. Many of the problem today was cause by person who abuse power and use it to control others, as a person I observe that many of this problem come ups from the government itself because some of its employees are using their power for their own good, power that was given to them by the people who believes in them but in some why this power was use In a different way a way that only one person can taste, some of this power is use in drug dealings, guns sailings and many more and because of this some human rights is abuse for example they have been rape, murder and killed this things are the most common things that is happening today and so it produce and unmerciful community a community that is full of crying and suffering from the deaths of their beloved families and that's why this family will sick for justice, justice that have not been given to them because of the powerful person behind the case that they are facing, and this kind of undutiful act have puss this family to put the justice to their own hand just to give their love once a peaceful burial, and the cycle goes over and over again in every rights that have been taken it only produce a new problem and any problem that is given unmerciful community is forming. In the aftermath of conflict, violence and suspicion often persist. Government institutions and the judiciary, which bear the main responsibility for the observation of human rights, are often severely weakened by the conflict or complicit in it. Yet, a general improvement in the human rights situation is essential for rehabilitation of war-torn societies. Many argue that healing the psychological scars caused by atrocities and reconciliation at the community level cannot take place if the truth about past crimes is not revealed and if human rights are not protected. To preserve political stability, human rights implementation must be managed effectively. Issues of mistrust and betrayal must be addressed, and the rule of law must be restored. In such an environment, the community can often play an important supporting role in providing at least implicit guarantees that former opponents will not abandon the peace. Because all norms are subject to cultural interpretation, external agents that assist in the restoration of human rights in post-conflict societies must be careful to find local terms with which to express human rights norms. While human rights are in theory universal, ideas about which basic needs should be guaranteed vary according to cultural, political, economic and religious circumstances. Consequently, policies to promote and protect human rights must be culturally adapted to avoid distrust and perceptions of intrusion into internal affairs.

Peace can be also defined as an essential for the full enjoyment, respect and protection of human rights because when there is conflict, the economy is affected, making it difficult for economic right to be fulfilled. And social tensions will lead to violations of social human right, on other hand human rights respect, protection, promotion and fulfillment is essential to maintain and build peaceful community for it to abode the conflict that will occur when its economic status is low, making and pushing people to make or do some rebellions act for them to survive as we all know that life status of a person is very essential for its survival, a person will do anything for him or her to see the next sunrise even do he or she will sale her soul to the devil.

All I am saying that human rights can be abuse by their own status in a community a person will always sick for a better life not just for him but also for their family they will never stop until they felt the safety and glamorous life that they are dreaming all about.