

PEACE AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Sharlene Dialo

Universidad de Zamboanga-Ipil
Zamboanga Sibugay Province, Philippines

We are not living in the vacuum, we lived in the society which there are different group of people we must to consider in accordance with their own rights of life. Every one of us wants peace and sufficient granted human rights. People can only enjoy the kind of life they deserve and aspire for when there is peace in the country and when the time Human Rights are respected, protected, promote and fulfilled.

Peace defines as a freedom from contention. We all know that all nations' primary aim is to promote peace in the country. Peace empowerment is always in discussion of the society because of nowadays occur in the country, and as the years getting old the spirit of peace is getting worst.

There are so many sociologist study further about peace. Why nations conflicts to each other nations? And why people does no good rapport to others? Their study comes to the conclusion that it is because of the nationality, culture, beliefs, self-philosophy and for being unique as individual. Hence, there are more reasons why peace can't achieved, but it is important that we human being we have to create a sets of goals and one of that goal is the promotion of peace in the daily routine in our lives. Let us all creates an atmosphere of freedom and universal respect, where all human rights are upheld and protected.

Men and Women needs to promote peace in orcler for them to become more effective to their family, society, living and one's life management. The best alternatives solution is to discipline itself, because building of peace and protection of the human rights are at the heart of the aspirations of the people which is peace into relation to human rights. If we don't respect the human rights we still not promoting peace, but then we are inflicting harm to others. Peace must begin with each one of us, that's why human rights must be protected because we need to have respect to each individual in order for us to achieve the big "PEACE" in ourselves, society and to the whole world and become responsible citizens and a model to our family, society and to all people in the world Without peace we cannot have stability, freedom from fear and freedom from want.

It is a cornerstone of progress economic, social individual and national growth. As Filipino citizens we need to know our rights to enjoy and live freely with democratic country, and we should be encouraged to respect the dignity of all especially the weak and powerless. It is important that people have an integral understanding of human rights and to reject all forms of perception and discrimination based on beliefs, race, ethnicity, gender and social class.

Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security, no one shall be held in slavery or servitude. Slavery and the slave trade are prohibited and no one be subjected to torture or cruel in human or degrading treatment or punishment. All are equal before the law in terms of protection against any discrimination. All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reasons and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all people are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. We must always remember that every person is given from God and the parents are the instrument of creating another image of God. We should think that even during conception the human being that being fertilized has already given the right to be care, love, grow, develop, born and lived. We have to acknowledge the rights of individual all the time. We should understand that every person is unique and autonomous individual. Person has the right to view and formulate his own plan, a right to make decisions and to make a plan of action.

Human Rights promotion and protection is a central component of peace building processes. The objective is to protect people from further abuses and address the structural, systemic conditions that give rise to human rights violations. A general improvement in the human rights situation is considered essential for the rehabilitation of war-torn societies. More important, the promotion and protection of human rights must aim to deepen a culture of human rights within a society, as an ongoing part of the nation-building and socio-political recovery process. As such, human rights promotion and protection contributes to the transformation of societal conditions that would potentially generate violence. The "Bills of Rights" is the set of prescriptions setting forth the fundamental civil and political right of the individual and imposing limitations on the power of government as a means of securing the enjoyment of those rights. The bills of rights is designed to preserve the ideal liberty, equality and security against the assaults of opportunism the expediency of the passing hour, the erosion of small accretions and score decisions of those who have no patient with general principles. Civil rights, those rights that belong to every citizens of the state or country or in wider sense to all inhabitants not connected with the organization or administration of the state or community, such term may also refer to its general sense or right capable of being enforced in civil action. The Political Rights they refer to the right participate directly and indirectly in the establishment of government example is the right of suffrage, the right to hold in public office. Furthermore bill of rights served as our individual protection and it is capable wherever you are.

Lastly human rights promote protection, security and democracy of Filipino citizens and if we have to practice and give respect to Rights, it also we promote peace to ourselves, family, society, nation, and the whole world.