War, conflicts, crimes or killings, patient sufferings, sickness, injustice, poverty, quarrel, and poor communications, this are some happenings that could be happening in the world if there is no peace and human rights. Every person had their own rights, rights to live peacefully. We, as a human being, we must respect each other's rights to have peace and order. To obtain peace, we should love each other, learn how to respect them and most of all, we should have unity. Peace has always been among humanity's aspiration.

We should be considerable to others if it is for our own good. Let there be peace on earth and let it begin from within us. Hunger for power and wealth destructs our economy, thus making our country unstable.

Yes, we are really looking for peace, but do we have one? There are people who go out with their homes and school just to join rallies for peace. But if you know and go deeper into their personal lives, you will find out that they do not have what they are fighting for. These are those people who don't know what they are making in their lives. They themselves are the ones making troubles, instead of encouraging other people to remain peace in their lives in order to have a happy living and improved lives.

The bible taught us that "if we only forget our greed for wealth and power, and allow love to dwell in our hearts, then we can feel God who is the source of peace." Absolute peace is what we need. Why is it that there is a coup? Why is it that there is poverty which is cause of strikes, robberies, and killings? It is because there are people who aim for power and wealth. And there are still more people who do not have personal peace.

People of today's generations, they make so many useless things that can't help to improve their lives. Instead of working in order to be improved, they may prefer to do those non-sense things. Being a Filipino, I can encourage other people how to be responsible. We should be a good model of our society.

I will help in our community, be kind to others in school, be understanding to the needs of other people, and be a good citizen who obeys the law. Encourage others to learn the value of PEACE, do not fight or quarrel with others; do not get mad in our parents. I will not cheat, steal, and lie to anyone, anywhere, and anytime, obey our parents with all our heart, do duties with my whole heart, offer all my actions as thanks giving to God. If all people will have this, different characteristics or attitudes, our every one's life will have peace and so many people will have or encourage having a positive outlook in life. Nobody is perfect and all of us can commit sins and that would be easy to be a perfect one but as long as we try our best to be a good follower. We gain more efforts, pains and other. So that you will reach your goals in life and you will be successful person someday.

I think that it is the love to each other that is always there even in suffering. We must love our family, love ones may the love live together with us always. If there is peace and love, life will be happy and you will feel the enjoyment of life. So, let peace be with us every time, wherever we are.
