

PEACE AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Yvonne Faye O. Bacuilo
Nursing Department
Universidad de Zamboanga-Ipil
Zamboanga Sibugay Province, Philippines

Peace is just a simple word to us people when we heard about it, sometimes we just ignore it, but think about it behind of that simple word that sometimes we ignored. Let's try to think deeply as deep as we can see what really peace is. Then it will come up to our mind that word peace is very meaningful and important to us people, cause without peace we people living in this country, are shall we say in this world are nothing and we are all useless through to the reason that we have no freedom, that we are all aiming for, we can't do such things that we usually did for us people in order to be enjoy and in additional freedom or peace can help us to lead in using our right as human or shall we say our human right.

Peace in our human life is a very important to have peace in ourselves first. We have to respect others in order for us to be respected also because through doing such action. We human being can achieve the most important thing that the individual must have. We must communicate God in additional, to follow the Ten Commandments that he implemented will help us to have or to obtain an inner peace, and also the rules and the regulations that our government had promulgated.

We cannot be at peace with other if we ourselves are not in peace. Have a communications with God in order for us to have inner peace. If everyone will do this, we will be all at peace.