

“Human Rights”

Valdez, Venus Diane B.
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City

Human rights are the right and freedom of ours. Whether we have different race, nationalities, sex, and environment. It's our freedom to do things we want without the rules and regulation of the law. We are born free and equal in dignity and rights. We human beings shall enjoy freedom and want has been proclaims as the highest aspiration of the common people.

We have the right to be educated, right to live, right to be respected we should not be abuse or slave by others from harassment or rape especially to the females whether they belong to a minor or legal age.