It is now the right time to do our own share in protecting the Earth. It's about time to give back to our wonderful planet by taking good care of her.

Our planet is indeed grasping for breath right now, our harmful pollution is indeed choking her slowly and continues to strip her with her ozone layer. I think it is time to give our timely response to this alarming state we live in, by doing our own share of protecting her with doing simple things that will surely stir big difference. For if not, we might be harming ourselves in the years to come. For nature has its own way of getting back to us. The signs of Earth's displeasure with inappropriate and harmful activities of human are now seen and felt all across the globe like the global warming, climate change, acid rains, drought, flashfloods and other forms of natural catastrophes.

Everyday we hear more bad news about our planet. In fact, we do not have to feel helpless. We can each learn practical ways to better environment. The idea is to prevent unrecyclable materials from even entering the home. For instance 60 of the 190 pounds of plastic especially Styrofoam, each of us uses a year is thrown out. There are already many plans to protect our mother earth but the problem is not everyone is doing their share, that's why those plans did not work. People nowadays abuse earth's wonderful nature. Our so called home is indeed in danger. Can we call this planet our home if its own people are the ones destroying it? Let's just reduce, reuse, recycle and refuse.
