

PEACE

Michelle Erika F. Mejia
BS Nursing
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

This year, 2010, is a testimony to human civilization and serves as the milestones in creating a better world. How can we save the earth? By means of Declaration of Peace? We express the aspirations of all humanity and praying for the well-being of all people in a new century, in able to help escape from which to seek for an essential solution. The awakening of human's good sense and conscious, starting from our heart, protect human rights and safeguard our earth with love.

As we believed that only a sincere heart can touch the depths of one's soul. Therefore, we truly hoped that those of all ages, having different beliefs and races, the rich and poor would have a genuine, cheerful, united and a peace-loving heart. As a result they will know how to respect and love for their families, others, their countries and the earth in which there is no suffering, no fear, no war and no pain at all.

I anticipate that the spirit of love and peace will spread across the world, turning will into good and stopping those wars. Creating a better tomorrow with wisdom can surely help us prevent human tragedies from happening again and will be bringing progress and prosperity in this earth. If all people respect and love one another open-mindedly, conflicts will be transferred into long lasting peace. Our love will keep the water clean and the environment beautiful forever. This way, our offspring will enjoy a pleasant and harmonious world.