

“We Need Peace to Have A Better World”

By: FERMISULI H. ABDURAHMAN

School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

“World Peace, like every other rare and precious thing, doesn’t come to you. You have to go and get it.”

World peace is a world where unconditional love was the only "law" needed. If our world is without war, with compassion, with peace it should be means like everyone is important, everyone is accepted, everyone is appreciated, and everyone is included that would live as a family with cooperation between nations recognize that it is in their own national interests. The world’s future in world peace can be predicted by none, but there are many ways to promote peace in the world but perhaps the best way is to promote it within ourselves. Peace is a gradual and wonderful event that occurs because compassionate people are inspired to help others discover the joy of peace.

How can we stop war? The quickest way of ending a war is to lose it; we have to begin by giving love to each and everyone around us. Is there a great warrior? No one is a great warrior because wars not make one great! Mankind must put an end to war, or war will put an end to mankind. War will exist until that distant day when the conscientious objector enjoys the same reputation and prestige that the warrior does today. The first step to this end is to develop peace and goodwill within our borders, by training our youth of both sexes to its practice as their habit of life, so that the jealousies of town against town, class against class and sect against sect no longer exist; and then to extend this good feeling beyond our frontiers towards our neighbors. Imagine all the people living life in peace you may say I'm a dreamer, but I'm not the only one. I hope someday you'll join us, and the world will live as one.