We have something to do to mother earth. Our mother earth is indeed grasping for breath right now, our harmful pollutions is choking our mother earth slowly and continue to strip her ozone layer. Now is about time to give our response to the alarming state of our mother earth, by protecting it in a simple things that we can do that will surely stir big difference. The nature has its own destructive way of getting back at us; the signs of earth displeasure with inappropriate and harmful activities of humans are now seen and felt all across the globe like global warming, climate change, acid rain, drought, flash flood, landslide and other forms of natural catastrophes. To prevent these harmful catastrophes we need to plant trees to prevent flash flood and landslide, recycle things, do not throw your garbage anywhere or dispose it properly, we have to start save our electric energy to prevent the global warming, we have to save our water, and we have to stop cutting trees, stop selling our endangered species. This is we have to do to save our mother earth. Do not abuse our mother earth, because mother earth is the only planet that we can live in. protect it, take care of it and treasure it.
