

I HATE WAR, I LOVE PEACE

By: Darwina Madjid Limpalan, BS in Nursing
School of Allied Medicine (SAM)
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

Do you really know the meaning of the word “peace”?

Well, I am pretty sure that everyone already knows the real meaning of it, because if you, yourself does not even know the real definition and advantages of peace, maybe you would not also know the meaning of “love”.

The word peace would not exist in this world without love, because if I, myself does not know how to promote peace and to have a peace of mind, I would have die because, for me to have the love which I am hungry for, I should have first peace within myself. And that is why I do really need that simple yet very meaningful and important, the word “peace” for me to have a peaceful life with happiness and so much love.

Realizing how important the word “peace” in our daily living is a big part of our lives to have a peaceful and well-living life with your family, love ones, peers, & those people around you.

To have a peaceful living with no such thinking about the fights, quarrels, conflicts & war, everyone must have a peace within themselves for us to spread the love and peace on earth.

“Without love, there is no peace.
And without peace, there will be no love.”
*--khazdee**