We realized that we experience difficulties, even disappointments, in our process of becoming. These difficulties or disappointments may either be caused by ourselves or by outside forces. Difficulties caused by ourselves may due to our laziness, procrastination, jealousies or lack of responsibility. Outside factors can either be conflicts or violence in the family, accidents, deaths or highly competitive, materialistic and secularist outlook of elders or of the society we are in.

As human beings, we are aspiring for the fullness of life, the signs of which are harmony, peace and order. But we find ourselves, at times, doing just the opposite of the good that we want to do.

Every family has its own problems, I was only 10 years old when I saw my mother crying in front of me for the first time because of my father, at first I was curious why she was crying I really want to ask her but I do not enough courage to do it, I knew there was something wrong with them until. One day I just heard from my aunt what the problem was really. My mother wants a separation from him. I do not know what to do, I am just a kid! And my mother wants me to be with her, but I loved my father, I love the both of them, why is it they need to separate because of misunderstanding between our relatives? why at that time all I could do is to cry and cry for them not to separate, praying for them for our family not to be ruined by anybody, I talked to God not to neglect to leave us alone, with Him, I expressed my worries, concerns and needs. Then my prayers were consummated! Thank God! Until now I realized even I was just a kid I can do something for my family. God listens, I know his always there for us.
