Our mother earth is our home and life. All human being, animals, plants, trees, mountains are living in the earth. More than two-third of the earth surface is covered by seas and oceans and about 72 percent of the earth is water. But there is question about our environment and to our mother earth, how can we help our environment and to our mother earth?

We can our environment if we will help each other by stopping to cut trees in the forest and mountains, throwing rubbish (garbage or dirt) anywhere this is too cause destroying our environment.

We can help our mother earth if all human beings will not destroy our environment like the pollution. Pollution in the in the factories, pollution in the cars and also the pollution caused global warming in the earth and also if we will throw dirt in the oceans, lake, it will destroy all corals, fish, and other and other species in the ocean. If all human being will help to be okay and nice the earth or the environment we cannot experience bad things that the people will die and all living things that will live in the mother earth will experience good, nice and peace.
