

What Can I Do?

By: Paul Angelo D. Salonga, BS in Radiologic Technology
School of Allied Mediine (SAM)
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

What can I do? What can you do to promote peace? To promote peace, I can help the youths in my community by means of inviting them engage in healthy activities that will lead them to think that there is more beautiful in life in the future. I will encourage them to read books & magazines that are wholesome.

What can I do? How can you promote peace? By showing to the people around me that i am a peace-loving youth. By being calm every time, there are incidents that might irritate my mind, I can promote peace. By showing humbleness to my peers I can promote peace.

What can I do? Why should you promote peace? The world is filled with troubles and crime, so it is necessary that peace-loving people should promote peace if we want to live a long life. If I will let myself be influenced of loose moral conduct by the people outside my home, I cannot promote peace in this world. I promised to myself that I will obey the advices given to me by my parents that if you love God, you must be a peace-loving person all the time. I can also promote peace by avoiding myself on drugs that is rampant especially in youths.

What can I do? Will you make a difference? I will make myself different from my peers who are not conscious of promoting peace. I will show to them that I am not a part of their “easy-go-lucky” life style. If only all people learn to love peace then we no longer afraid of the people around us.