Do you know that you have a right as an individual? And do you enjoy those rights of yours? I do believe that each one of us has the right to be happy in a way that no one is forcing us to do this and to do that instead we are doing this and or that thing because it is our right to do so.

As a student, I have also my right as a part of the society, a human who lived differently from others. My right as a student first of all is that the right to education, education is very important to me because this is my way to my brighter future no one who could tell me that I have no right to education nor to have a good future because it is my right as a youth and as a student I am part of a whole. We must know that all individuals have the right to education and no one who could stop us from dreaming to a brighter and successful future. My right to learn is also a part of my right to education because I'm a student it is my responsibility also to learn so that I can share also what I have learn from school to others, and gain also knowledge from them. Learning can also be a shield so that people will never put down my personality and respect me as a human and will never call or tell me that I am an idiot person, only death who could stop me from learning. My right to choose or to decide which way or path I want for my future whether it is right or wrong it's up to me as long as I have someone who guide me which way should I pass I will never lost.

We have many rights as an individual we just don't like see it nor to touch it because we are surrounded by those persons who never give us the chance to meet our right, the only thing or way is that we can do and we just open our mind and be brave to voice out.
