

EDUCATION: A WAY TO ELIMINATE POVERTY

Godito, Jesselle Jane Acuzar
BS Medical Technology
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

What is education? How important education is? Will this help us to reduce poverty?

Education is continuing studies for excellence.

Education is very important especially to youth, this serves as the means to bring about the desired change in society, to develop a generation virtuous individuals and contribute to the development of good human beings. Without education people wouldn't have their high-developed knowledge and people wouldn't find a good job. From the early age, parents very often to tell their children that education is very important to look for jobs, and some parents would also say that education is their only hope to escape poverty that their encountering.

Me, I can say that I'm really blessed to have my parents, though I didn't come from a wealthy family they really did their best for me to be sent to school, and they're very supportive on me now that I'm already in college. Being a college student is really difficult there are a lot of payments that we need to pay. Sometimes it makes me think to stop going to school for them not to worry for the fees to pay, but they didn't show that they were affected on what we're experiencing now. And then it makes me realized that though we don't have enough money, I shouldn't be affected on the things that makes me worry to stop going to school. All I have to do is to study well for me to be able to graduate.

Maybe now people experiencing problems in terms of financial but they didn't know that soon all of the hardships and sacrifices they've done has a reason in return. I am really thankful to my parents who are always there for me and gave me the opportunity to study. Unless our parents can still bring us to school, we should give our best for us to finish college and look for good jobs. Make the sacrifices for our parents serves as our inspiration to be able to achieve our goals in life.