We human beings are very fortunate to have the existence of education.

There's a saying, "the more we pursue our education, the more we discover ignorance". It definitely means, as we journey in the world of education, there are lots of things we learn we never encountered before. It is a vital instrument which serves as a durable bridge towards a new and progressive world; this is where the solutions of eliminating poverty come in.

It helps us in providing marvelous knowledge in order for us to develop our skills and talents, it helps us to communicate better and interact with other people regarding the problems not only of our country and of the nations as well.

Through education, professionals have been produced, science and technology have reached the top point of improvement. It makes life worth and easy for living. Without it, the flow of life will be affected, our knowledge will be limited, we will be very far from industrialization. Therefore, we will be really experiencing poverty.

Life and education must go together to face and fight strongly and bravely the challenges, difficulties as well as poverty, it can be compared to fish and water, a fish always needs water in order to survive. Lastly, with the benefit and the help of education, little by little, poverty will be eliminated.
