Save the earth. It isn't easy for us to say it. But doing it or proving it is a big challenge for every human kind. Earth is our free shelter, a shelter that comply our needs. It is for everyone, every individual and for every creation of our Almighty God. In return we must love, take good care and maintain its beauty as being grateful to have t and of course for our own benefits.

Despite of having beautiful resources, free from pollution, provides our needs, we attempt to destroy it. There is no harm in progress but are we aware of what could be the outcome or disadvantages in aiming progress? We forget to know our limitation that's why our world has seen calamities such as illegal logging that caused floods, landslides and many other natural disaster and manmade calamities. Because of abusing the earth is like overheated pressure. The earth we abuse and living things we kill, in the end they take care revenge for in the exploitation; their presence we are diminishing our future.

Wake up. When will we know its worth and give importance, when it's gone? Before it's too late, start doing your share to save the earth.
