God created the earth for us to live in peace and harmony. Because of the love of God give to us. The earth is very unique unlike any other planet, because as we all know earth is the only planet in which we are able to live. So in return we need to love the earth like God loves us. We need to help the earth to grow and not destroy it. We are very capable of making a big change in our surroundings. By just burning plastic we are trying to destroy the earth because it produces carbon dioxide that affects our earth.

The earth provides us our daily needs to survive. We eat, drink, etc. We need to help ourselves to preserve the earth by not making things that can harm our surroundings. We need to ensure that the earth is in good position as we take care of our love ones. Just like loving our selves we should always make ourselves comfortable. The same with earth we need to make it beautiful and very comfortable to live in.

Sometimes I ask myself why I should love the earth. For me in my experience we should love and take care of the earth because if we love it, it will give us good in return by providing us our daily needs.

We can recycle many things rather than to throw them away. Because of this we are helping the earth by reducing the pollution in our surroundings. Like us, the earth also faces problems, one is the pollution because of this it destroys our surroundings and kills many species ling on earth. That is why there are endangered species. We need to recycle in order to lessen the pollution and helping the endangered species to multiply.
