To love the earth is like caring for your community by cleaning the community. Because earth is very important to people, we live on earth. So like we love to ourselves, you should love also the earth like you love yourself. Love for the earth, to care in our community like cleaning the community, so that we have a good and healthy environment. To love the earth is not only for the people only who love it, but for the people who are living on earth. It is the only planet that we can live.
