

“How to save our Environment”

Dimaampao, Shaima U.
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City

To save the environment or our environment, everyone should cooperate and should unite so that if each of individual of us have the cooperation regarding on how to save our environment we are be able to save it by keeping our environment clean and we should advocate for tree planting in order to prevent flood, we should also encourage community for environmental sanitation and proper waste management so that water drainage will flow well hence we will have a healthy environment.

Advice community to avoid illegal logging because cutting of tress will also be a factor to cause flood that can destroy plants and other agricultural products like rice etc.