

How to Save the Environment
Sherhada Yasin
Certificate in Respiratory Therapy
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

For all intents and purposes, our environment should be preserved in a dynamic way in order to reach the possible anticipation that is given in return by loving our nature. In order to achieve the genuine natural cleanliness and prosperity of our environment, we need to participate and give more focus and effort regarding the progress of our environment. This way, we can be aware and as a follower I saving the environment we can also pass this to the next generation.